

Marcyline L. Bailey, Licensed Clinical Social Worker

ML BAILEY CONSULTANTS, INC.

Update

The May 2014 issue is the last mailed issue of the M.L. Bailey Consultants, Inc. Newsletter. Beginning in June 2014 all subsequent issues will be delivered via an email service. The newsletter will also take on a different focus delivering news regarding the growth of M.L. Bailey Consultants, Inc., updates regarding services, products and special offers. We hope that you will sign up using the subscription web form found at www.mlbaileyconsultantsinc.com. Simply provide your email address and first name. You will always have an opportunity to manage your preferences. I will not share your information. If you choose to opt out, please accept my gratitude and thanks for your support these past two years.

My private practice continues to evolve. I am seeing a number of clients referred through employee assistance programs (EAP,) individuals who work in the helping professions and individuals who are in caretaker roles at home. My clientele includes adults, couples and families. Many of the issues are resolved in 3-4 sessions.

I am particularly excited to announce that I am currently developing online resources for career advancement and work satisfaction for social workers and social service professionals.
